Pam Retzlaff

The Soulard School would like to introduce Dr. Pam Retzlaff. Pam is an experienced educator with over 38 years in private and public schools, including 18 years with the Webster Groves School District, seven years with Kirkwood School District, and 3-plus years with The Biome School. She holds a Doctor of Educational Administration from St. Louis University and a Master of Science in Education in Supervision and Administration from Bank Street College of Education in New York.

Pam is passionate about fitness, gardening and spending time with her grandchildren.

Pam joined the Board of The Soulard School in July 2021 and leads its Education Committee.

"I'm delighted to serve on the Board The Soulard School. Several years ago, I learned of The Soulard School and have visited on several occasions. During one visit, I brought a group of teachers with me so they could view firsthand the passion of the educators and the connection of the school to the community. The uniqueness of the school is evident through the combined work of the teachers, families and students - all contributing to student success. I was and am drawn to the original innovative model for TSS that fosters authentic experiences that elevate every type of learner...so children know they can have an impact. I'm excited to support the administration, staff, families and children of TSS."
